

13A.221 Division of subject matter of administrative regulation.

- (1) An administrative body shall divide the general subject matter of administrative regulations it promulgates into topics. A separate administrative regulation shall be promulgated for each topic.
- (2) An administrative body shall not incorporate all material relating to a general subject matter in one (1) administrative regulation. Material incorporated by reference shall be incorporated by reference in the administrative regulation governing the specific topic to which the material relates.
- (3) When an administrative regulation is amended, it shall be amended or repealed, whichever is applicable, to comply with the requirements of KRS Chapter 13A.
