26.1-25.2-03. Prohibited claims usage. An insurer may not consider the following events for purposes of surcharging, declining, nonrenewing, or canceling either personal insurance coverage or a binder for personal insurance coverage. The events include:

1. An insured's inquiry into the type or level of coverage or an inquiry into whether a policy will cover a loss;
2. An insured's inquiry regarding coverage for a loss if the insured files no claim;
3. A claim if the insurer conducts no investigation of a claim or initiates no other claim activity and the claim does not involve deceptive practices on the part of the insured;
4. A claim if the insurer makes no payment to or on behalf of the insured and the claim does not involve deceptive practices on the part of the insured;

5. A first-party property claim resulting from wind or hail if the insured had no previous wind or hail claim on that property within the previous five years regardless of the insurer unless the insurer can provide evidence that the insured unreasonably failed to maintain the property and the failure to maintain the property contributed to the loss; or
6. A claim if the claim is over ten years old, unless the insurer can provide evidence that the insured unreasonably failed to maintain the property and the failure to maintain the property contributed to the loss.

26.1-25.2-04. Prohibited use of prior owner's history. An insurer may not decline to insure a property not previously owned by an applicant based solely upon the loss history of a previous owner of the property, unless the insurer can provide evidence that the previous owner did not repair the damage.

26.1-25.2-05. Disclosure requirements. An insurer writing personal insurance must inform the applicant in writing or in the same medium as the application at the time of an application for personal insurance that the insurer will consider the insured's claims history in determining whether to decline, cancel, nonrenew, or surcharge a policy and that a claim incurred by the insured will be reported to an insurance support organization.
